NOTES:

FNP Printing offered a size format that is smaller than our current newsletter. The City determined that a smaller newsletter will not work at this time, and while the bid allowed bidders to offer a slightly smaller size, than was specified, the City reserved the right to select a size "as is in the best interest of the City." The newsletter is already tight for space, and a different size would necessitate a complete redesign, which is not something the City is prepared to do at this time.

Gannett failed to offer recycled paper. The bid allowed bidders to offer recycled paper, non-recycled paper or both, where the City reserved the right to "select either recycled or non-recycled paper, as is in the best interest of the City."
